

Midwest's St. Louis headquarters provides fourteen technically enhanced conference rooms for arbitration, mediation, deposition, video conferencing or discovery sessions. Comfortable and acoustically private, with contemporary business furnishings, these rooms offer a neutral, non-threatening environment for all litigants. All Midwest offices have similar accommodations for client use.

- On-site technicians provide immediate assistance with technical needs from video equipment operation to Power Point® projection.
- Snack and beverage service available for all meetings. In addition, catered lunches and dinner can be provided upon request.
- Video conferencing is available in St. Louis, Jefferson City, Springfield, Overland Park and Kansas City. Stay at our office and depose the witness anywhere in the world.
- Transportation and/or hotel accommodations for participants can be arranged by the Midwest staff. Company vehicles are available to meet airport arrivals or pick up materials.
- Similar conference rooms are available to clients nationwide through Midwest's extensive court reporting network.

Midwest – People dedicated to their clients and to the pursuit of professional excellence in the field of court reporting and trial services.
